The HempWood Team traveled to Las Vegas, Nevada this past week to exhibit at the International Builders' Show and The International Surface Event.

With two events on the agenda, our team divided and conquered the three-day excursion. "It was great to reconnect with some old friends and make new ones," Greg Wilson said.

With thousands of people in attendance, the HempWood Team is excited to develop new partnerships within the building sector.

If you were in attendance, make sure to reconnect!
