3 Reasons Why You Need HempWood[®] Organic Flooring

WHY YOU NEED HEMPWOOD

Three reasons why you need HempWood Organic Flooring in your home. We use natural products including fiber hemp and a soy-based adhesive. We also don't use any dirty chemicals. Bona products are used for a water and scratch-resistant wear layer. You can find HempWood Organic Flooring at a dealer near you.

We recently added MyPlanet Living Center to our dealer network. Located in Chicago, Illinois, MPLC offers all of the leading products, including HempWood Organic Flooring, in one showroom location. They make sourcing materials for your project easy.

AIA UPDATE

This past month our team traveled to San Francisco, CA to attend AIA Conference on Architecture. With over 15,000 attendees, this tradeshow was a tremendous opportunity to connect with industry professionals. As always, it was great to be working alongside the United Soybean Board.

HEMP GROWING

We are approaching 8 weeks after planting. Some of the hemp is already reaching heights as tall as 6'. Farmers continue to combat drier conditions as much of the area has seen very little rainfall. Pictured is local farmer, Joe Kelly with his Futura 83 crop.

BOURBON IS BACK!

The rumors are true! Bourbon is back and better than ever. As you may know, we have been upgrading our coating system, so Bourbon has not been available, but no worries it's here to stay this time. Get your samples today: www.hempwood.com
